BANK EXPANSION — This is an architect's sketch of First National Bank which is expanding existing bank facilities and adding a drive-in system. Construction at the rear of the present bank building at Houston and First will add an additional 1900 square feet in a two-floor extension. The drive-in facility will have two windows, one in the rear of the expanded main building and another in an island service area. Construction work began this week. Clearing of buildings on the site was completed some weeks ago.

County Votes To Alter Courthouse

PLANS MEAN ELEVATOR, OFFICESPACE

A $50,000 to $55,000 Courthouse interior expansion of first floor County Clerk office and storage space and elevator installation has been unanimously approved by Milam County Commissioners.

County Judge O. B. Harden and Commissioners Lavert McKinney, Albert Timmerman, Mrs. Dora McCasland and Adolph Gresak voted to contract with Emmett Trant & Associates, Bryan architects and engineers, to enlarge north side, first floor County Clerk offices and to install a $28,000 elevator, which would serve the basement and all three floors of the Milam Courthouse.

County has already budgeted $59,812, including about $14,000 from this tax year.

Commissioners also discussed enlarging jury and restroom facilities on the third floor, but deferred decision until an August 12 meeting. The meeting Monday was called for review of the expansion plan.

Enlargement of the County Clerk facilities will take in the hallway on the north side of the building.

Discussion also dwelled on an alternative of opening up a wider area on the south side for the County Clerk's offices by connecting the south hallway (now Justice Brock's office), the Commissioners Courtroom and the County Superintendent's office. No action was taken on the south side proposals.

H. H. Coffield, one of several business leaders present, questioned the advisability of reducing the County Superintendent's office space.

Oxshere Smith, Cameron banker, spoke in favor of the expansion program in the Courthouse.

Installation of the elevator will make the third floor of the Courthouse accessible. It is little used now except for jury facilities.

Judge Harden and Auditor John Andres said the third floor space could be used for the State Welfare office, the County Superintendent's office, Milam Health Unit and surplus commodities office, for which cumulative rental cost is now $240 a month.

The Courthouse building was described as "very serviceable as it stands and is in excellent condition", meaning general strength of walls and construction.

Proposed elevator would be a 2,000-pound capacity (nine people) which would move 125 feet per minute. It would serve all floors and basement.

County has set aside $44,922 and has some 5 percent bond income and $14,000 in tax income would total $59,812 for the project.

Officials said firm bids would vary, but the projects would be kept within the County budget.

Judge Harden posed four written questions to the Commissioners about the alternatives.

Also present were Lester Williams, Cameron banker, and Howard Chisro, Rockdale Alcoa Works manager, members of the Bryan engineer - architect firm and the press.

Cameron Team In Little League State Play-Offs

The home town Yankees, 1968 Little League champs, continued their winning ways in district play Monday night at Killeen as Yank pitcher John Barron pitched a two-hit game.

The Yanks played flawless ball and drubbed the Temple Nationals, sponsored by the Texas National Bank of Temple, 8-0.

Barron was magnificent on the mound as he struck out 12. The Temple team could manage only two hits for the evening and threatened only once in the bottom of the 1st inning.

The Yankees took an early four-run lead in the top of the 2nd, then added 4 to account for the night's scoring.

Crossing home plate for the Yanks with 2 runs each were Kopriva and Friemel.

Single runs were chalked up by Barron, Rangel, Sapp and Young. Mike Young bounced a long fly ball off the center field fence in the top of the third, driving in 2 runs.

With a solid victory under their belts, the Yankees were looking to their second playoff game set for 8:30 p.m. Wednesday at Stewart Field in Killeen with the Coca Cola team of Copperas Cove.

District playoffs at Killeen involve eleven teams including teams from Temple, Belton, Killeen, Harker Heights, Copperas Cove and Cameron. Single elimination games are scheduled each night this week with the final game to be played Saturday night to determine the district champs.

Hospital Plan Set

Directors of the drive for a new St. Edward Hospital Monday set September 10 as the date for a kickoff dinner highlighted by a speech by a leading Texas physician.

Board members reviewed campaign material being worked up for use in the $250,000 fund drive in Cameron, Milam County and across Texas.

R. W. Wells, vice-chairman of the committee and chairman of the Monday session, said a leading physician will be invited to address a kickoff dinner the evening of September 10.

Seven committees are expected to wind up planning for the four-week fund drive in the Milam area, which begins in September.

A 19-member board is planning the fund program which seeks a final quarter million dollars to match $250,000 pledged by the St. Joseph Hospital Order, which runs St. Edward Hospital and several other hospitals in the Southwest. A grant of $500,000 from Hill-Burton source has been assured.

The hospital will be built on a site south of the present structure on North Crockett St. It will have about 50 beds in various individual and ward arrangements and complete medical and surgical facilities.

The present St. Edward Hospital was built about 1912, modernized and expanded through the years.

Rosebud, Cameron Take First Wins

Rosebud Orioles and Cameron Bears took the first wins at the two-game elimination baseball tournament which got underway in Cameron Tuesday night.

Six Little League teams are participating in the tourney: Buckholts, Rosebud Braves, Rosebud Orioles, Cameron Cardinals, Bears and Indians.

In the first game Tuesday, the Orioles gained a 5-run lead in the first two innings to take the Cards 5-2. The Orioles had 5 runs off 5 hits while the Cardinals scored 2 runs on 3 hits.

Salazar was winning pitcher and scored one of the Orioles' runs. Meyer led the scoring with 2 runs and Rodriguez and Hoelscher added the other 2. Yett was behind the plate.

Ernie Provasek and Glenn Cryer scored the Cardinals' runs in the 4th inning. Tony Vargas was on the mound for the Cards and Gene Mitchan catcher.

In the second game the Cameron Bears broke a 1-1 tie in the 4th when they broke away with 2 runs to take the Rosebud Braves 3-1. Catcher Mark Michalka, Donald Fleming and Bobby Zavodny scored for the Bears. Kenneth Dusek was winning pitcher.

Lugo and Ellison shared pitching duties for Rosebud with Wright Ellison behind the plate. Horton scored in the 2nd inning throwing the game into a tie until the 4th.

Magna-Craft, Walled Lake . . .

Industry Expands In City

Industry is expanding in Cameron.

Magna Craft, Inc., new Cameron furniture factory, is about two weeks away from more production of sample sofas while Walled Lake Door Co. is beginning the first of two 12,000-square foot expansions.

Clifford Logan, Magna - Craft president, told The Herald the new firm was still awaiting additional machinery, but that some work on samples was underway. About seven people were working Monday.

Employment is expected to reach 25 or more when Magna-Craft begins full production.

James Wilkinson, manager of Walled Lake Door Co., told The Herald that construction workers were awaiting removal of a gas line and meter on the south end of the present building before concrete work began on the 12,000-square foot south wing.

A similar wing of another 12,000-square feet will be constructed on the north end of the present plant, making the overall plant about 65,000 square feet.

Walled Lake Door officials last fall estimated about 25 additional employees would be added when the expansion is complete.

Both Walled Lake Door and Cam-Tex, Inc. are awaiting decision from the City of Cameron and Cameron Industrial Foundation Inc. about water to the industrial sites north of Cameron.

One Cam-Tex, Inc. official said the Dallas-based firm is anticipating construction of a 20,000-square foot building. Employment is 50 people at Cam-Tex's present location. Employment is expected to reach 200 or more in the permanent location.

Walled Lake Door is planning installation of a sprinkler system in the enlarged plant when water service reaches the North Cameron location.

The City of Cameron has resolved to cooperate in furnishing water to the industrial sites, either by City means alone or through a federal Housing and Urban Development grant. Cameron Industrial Foundation would participate in the city program, but not in a federal co-op program.

The Central Texas Economic Development District, according to a Hillsboro paper, has granted that town about $400,000 for use in developing industrial expansion facilities there.

Industrial Foundation directors met last week, reviewing with N. L. Caperton, board president, developments in CIF's part in the industrial water program and financing needs for industrial buildings, land under option and water systems.

Cameron Postoffice 'On Ball'

PO Doors Swing Open

The Cameron Post Office continued with business as usual Saturday although a majority of post offices in the area were closed. Cameron Postmaster Narvie Caperton said the local office had made arrangements to be open until 10 a.m. Saturday when word was received late Friday evening that a pending service cutback had been delayed.

Post offices in Rockdale, Thorndale, Rosebud and Hearne had announced at mid-week that they would be closed all day Saturday.

Caperton said a bill has passed the Senate and is pending in the House to exempt the Post Office from the proposed man-hour cutback that would have discontinued Saturday window service immediately and city home delivery on Saturdays beginning November 1. Rural home delivery was not included in the cutback.

Still in question are third and fourth class post offices across the country which are scheduled to close under a post office automation and modernization program.

Caperton said third and fourth class post offices in the 11th Congressional District will not be affected at present. These would

Lake Claims Life Of Buckholts Man

Richmond Zelisko, 48, drowned in a lake about a mile from his farm home at Buckholts late Wednesday afternoon. His body was found at the bottom of the lake shortly before midnight by Sheriff Carl Black and volunteer searchers.

County Agent's Notes...

Weed Problem In Grain Harvesting

By J. D. Moore

Weeds in grain sorghum this year may cause some problems for harvesters. Henry O'Neal, Extension agricultural engineer with Texas A&M University, says,

"Wet weather has caused excessive amounts of Johnsongrass and crabgrass in many fields and the troublesome pests can foul up profits for producers."

The engineer suggests a slower speed to take care of the tough, high-moisture weeds and more care in cleaning the combine.

Each morning the operator should check all grates and sieves for "honeydew" or "syrup" which can collect and cause buildups of dust and trash and cause throwout loss of grain. Straw-walkers should also be checked before starting work each morning.

Before going into a weedy field, it is best to adjust the machine according to the operator's manual and then make secondary adjustments as field conditions warrant, O'Neal points out.

To cover the ground as quickly as possible and avoid seed losses, both in uncleaned heads and cracked seeds, the operator may have to maintain a compromise speed. When the combine "grows" it is an indication of excess speed and probable seed losses.

Losses in profits for the producer can be caused by grain left in the field, cracked seed, or dockage at the elevator.

In most fields, there is usually one spot which is weedier than the rest. The clean portion of the field should be combined first to get out the high quality seed. The weedy part can wait a longer period as it will usually result in higher moisture grain, O'Neal concludes.

4 From Milam Attend Seminar On Citizenship

Four high school students from Milam County will attend the sixth annual Texas Farm Bureau Citizenship Seminar July 30 to August 3 on the Campus of Baylor University in Waco, according to V. L. Angell of Cameron, president of the Milam County Farm Bureau.

The students are Gale Harper of Cameron, Connie Kelm of Thornedale, David Zajicek of Buckholts, and Ray Westbrook of Milano.

The annual training school for high school junior and senior students is an intensive course in citizenship, our American heritage and the proper role of government, according to Angell. WORSHIP IN CHURCH and get a spiritual lift for the whole week

We have all been impressed with the pathetic story of the barren fig tree. It was destined to perennial barrenness. The owner found this wilted tree and ordered it cut down but his vine-keeper pled for it to have another chance. This is a good parable of the Grace of God. Our religion is essentially a religion of redemption. God gives everyone of us another chance. We have failed more than once but the Almighty has been patient, kind and forgiving. Perhaps Luke 15 is our truest picture of God. He is like a woman who seeks until she finds her lost coin; like the shepherd who left the ninety and nine to find the lost one; like the father who received his prodigal son. The lesson is plain. God gives another chance and He will gather all the ripe figs.

Congratulations, Commissioners . . .

We congratulate the unanimous decision of Milam County Commissioners Court to proceed with expansion of County Clerk record storage and office space and with installation of an elevator.

We join those hundreds of jury panelists, whose deliberations are affected by outmoded conditions in long forsaken jury quarters, who must appreciate modernizing plans for the third floor.

Installation of an elevator will make all floors accessible, of course, but it will insure usage of modern and expanded space on the Courthouse top floor.

A bond issue of some size was defeated by County voters three years ago because they did not fully realize conditions in these two areas of the building and because they had not considered a county bond issue in about 50 years. Clearly, they were out of the habit.

Improvements in Milam District Courtroom, maintenance of the building and greater use of airconditioning in offices, have, beyond question, increased the efficiency of the Court-house staff, elected or employed.

A county seat must have adequate courthouse facilities and the Commissioners Court deserves congratulations for putting "money where the mouth is." Proceeding with this basic progress is well within current budgeting and long overdue.

Milam County property owners and prospective jurors should thank this Court for this action.

What Others Say Lightfooted

The municipal government of New York has just issued a plea to builders in Fun City to get away from the endless and unvarying gray of Gotham sidewalks and throw in a little color from time to time and perhaps an occasional design based on something other than the square and rectangle.

The idea is excellent, overdue and applicable to all our cities, including Washington.

Poured concrete can as easily be made bright and cheerful as gray and glum. It's a matter of adding the right pigment at the right time. It doesn't cost very much and the change could make a world of difference in our urban life.

It is only in fairly modern times that the city underfoot has become so drab. Roman pavements were fashioned of intricate geometric designs, some-times enhanced by trompe l'oeil three dimensional effects, sometimes made enchanting by appropriate scenes of hunting and fishing or life as lived among the gods.

In modern Rome and Florence the elaborate pavement designs of Michelangelo may still be seen. The visitor to Rio de Janeiro or to the new arena of the Mexican Olympic games can see a few of the possibilities for modern pavements made to delight the eye and make walking a pleasure.

Washington architecture is just beginning to show an encouraging sign or two of breaking out of the concrete and glass box convention. Our builders, too, should reconsider what is underfoot as well as what is overhead and begin now to make this a noble and pleasant city from the ground up.

OLD PHILOSOPHER

Dear editor:

As everyone knows, cars have become so efficient and prevalent that you can now cross New York City on horseback quicker than you can by automobile, and I wasn't surprised to read in a newspaper I got up and walked 100 yards for last week that it is frequently quicker to fly by old-fashioned propeller planes than jets.

A jet will fly faster per mile, once it's in the air, but frequently it has to wait in line for other big jets to take off, then when it streaks to where it's going it has to circle around over the airport for two or three hours waiting for other jets to land.

This is what is known as carrying progress too far too soon, like

REA Borrowers Reduce Outflow From Treasury

Rural electric and telephone systems financed by the Rural Electrification Administration, an agency in the U.S. Department of Agriculture, reduced the outflow of cash from the U.S. Treasury by $142.8 million during fiscal year 1968. REA Administrator Norman M. Clapp reported today.

The reduction came under the Joint REA-Borrower Cash Management Program. Under this program, started two years ago, the REA-financed systems help the Treasury in two ways: by deferring cash withdrawals from the Treasury and stepping up the deposit of advance repayments on loan accounts ahead of schedule.

REA financing is carried out entirely through loans from the Government which are repaid to the Treasury over a maximum period of 35 years.

In fiscal year 1968, with the Cash Management Program, the net outflow of cash from the Treasury to finance the electric and telephone programs was $190.8 million. Without the program this outlay would have been expected to reach $333.6 million.

Instead of withdrawing cash from the Treasury under approved loan contracts, the rural electric and telephone borrowers in fiscal year 1968 tapped their own required renewal and replacement funds for $97 million to help finance essential construction.

educating a boy so much he won't work.

Or take the telephone. I read in that same paper an article bragging about how automatic equipment has enabled the telephone systems to handle the billions of telephone calls now being made daily in this country.

"If it weren't for automatic equipment," the article said, "it would take every woman in the United States to serve as telephone operators to handle all the calls now being made every day."

"Yeah, but if all the women were tied up as telephone operators, how much do you reckon that'd reduce the number of calls? Off hand I'd say by 85 percent at least, which of course would eliminate the need for all that automatic equipment."

Frequently man has a tendency to get so balled up in progress it slows him down to where he was before progress set in. I know a neighbor who spends more time and sweat trying to start his power lawnmower than it'd take to cut his grass with a push-type mower, and if more people would keep cows you wouldn't need any kind of mower.

And I never have understood the garbage disposal problem in cities. Why doesn't everybody keep a hog?

Yours faithfully,
J.A.

Cassell Named PR Head For Santa Fe

The appointment of Leonard J. Cassell, at Dallas as regional manager of Public Relations for the Santa Fe Railway, and George T. Grader as regional manager at Amarillo, was announced today by W. C. Burk, system public relations manager. Cassell's territory covers part of Oklahoma, North-Central and Gulf areas of Texas and Louisiana.

Cassell was born in San Francisco and served with newspapers in the San Francisco Bay area as reporter and editor. He was employed as traveling representative of the Railway in 1936 when its Public Relations Department was organized. The following year he was promoted to special representative and headquartered at that capacity at Amarillo, Galveston and Dallas.

Paralytic Polio On Increase In Young Children

Dr. C. G. Swift, County Health Unit director, urged parents to have children immunized against polio either by their family doctor or at the County Health Unit.

Dr. Swift said there was no charge for polio vaccine at the County Health Unit, 209 S. Houston. He said there had been 16 confirmed cases of paralytic polio from nine counties in Texas reported to date. None of the stricken children had previously received polio vaccine.

All but one of the reported polio cases have been of the epidemic type I Poliovirus. Nine of the 16 cases (56 percent) occurred in infants under one year of age. Fifteen of the 16 cases (94 percent) occurred in children under five years of age.

To date, only 29 cases of paralytic polio have been reported for all of the United States with 16 of this total occurring in Texas. The peak seasonal incidence for polio in Texas continues through the early autumn.

Texas Draft Quota Is 895 For August

AUSTIN
The August draft call for Texas is 895, exactly 200 above the July quota, Colonel Morris S. Schwartz, state Selective Service director, said Tuesday.

Because of budgetary limitations, there will be no pre-induction physical-mental examinations, either in August or September, Col. Schwartz said, except for transferred men who previously have been ordered.

The order of selection to fill the August induction call may be from among examined and acceptable men who are (1) delinquents 19 years old and older, (2) volunteers under age 26 in the sequence in which they have volunteered, and (3) nonvolunteers 19 through 25 years old, single and married, oldest first, with those married after August 26, 1963, being selected ahead of those married on or before that date.

Campaigns Shaping Up On 14 Proposed Amendments

By Vern Sanford

AUSTIN
Campaigns will be shaping up soon on 14 more amendments to the state constitution. All 14 of the proposed changes in the state's basic laws will be voted on at the general election November 5. Some are far-reaching, others routine.

Here are the amendments in the order in which they will appear on the November 5 ballot:

1. Revising provisions for management and administration of the state employees' retirement system and permitting investment in securities other than government bonds.
2. Raising the state's welfare spending ceiling from $60 million to $75 million.
3. Permitting investment of the Permanent University Fund by UT regents in certain types of securities, within the "prudent man rule."
4. Allowing Dallas County to issue road bonds on vote of property taxpayers.
5. Authorizing a raise in state legislators' salaries from $4,800 to $5,400 a year and extending the per diem expense allowance of legislators ($12 a day) to 140 days of a regular lawmaking session. (Present limit is 120 days.)
6. Allowing the legislature to exempt from property taxes equipment installed by industrialists to control air or water pollution.
7. Phasing out the state property tax after Dec. 31, 1976, beginning next year, except that portion for higher education institutions.
8. Eliminating the requirement that the governor, secretary of state and comptroller approve contracts for printing and paper.
9. Providing for contributions to the teacher retirement system on the basis of full salaries. (Contributions now are limited to $504 a year.)
10. Allowing the legislature to provide for refund of state tax on cigars and tobacco products sold at retail in Texarkana.
11. Authorizing the legislature to permit consolidation of offices and governmental functions in El Paso and Tarrant Counties.
12. Giving the legislature power to authorize cities and counties to issue revenue bonds for industrial development purposes and permit private concerns to operate plants thus financed.
13. Exempting from property tax certain property temporarily stored in public warehouses.
14. Spelling out that legislators will not be ineligible for other offices because their terms extend a few days into January.

GOP OFF FOR MIAMI
Most Texas Republican delegates to the GOP national convention will be shuffling off to Miami Beach this weekend. Opening session is Monday, August 5. First caucus of the Texans (who have 56 votes in the presidential-vote presidential nominating procedure) is scheduled for 3 p.m. Sunday, Aug. 4. Sen. John Tower and Mrs. Tobin Armstrong of Armstrong serve on the convention platform and resolutions committee. Douglas R. DeChitt of Waco and Mrs. Malcolm Milburn of Austin serve on the credentials committee; Jim Collins of Dallas and Mrs. Richard M. Sowell of McAllen, permanent organization; Paul Eggers of Wichita Falls and Mrs. Basil E. Atkinson Jr. of Lufkin, rules and order of business.

DEMOCRATS PREPARING TOO
Democrats are getting ready for their own big pow-wow in Chicago starting August 26.

Gov. John Connally, Texas delegation chairman and favorite son candidate for the presidency, announced these appointments to convention posts:

Secretary of State Roy Berrera of San Antonio, delegation secretary; Cecil Burney of Corpus Christi and Mrs. Roland Boyd of McKinney, resolutions and platform committee; Will D. Davis of Austin and Miss Claudia Brummett of Amarillo, credentials committee; Tom Gordon of Abilene and Miss Julianan Cowden of Alvarado, rules and order of business; Mrs. Horace Botsford of Corpus Christi and M. J. Anderson of Austin, committee on permanent convention organization.

Also, Rhea Howard, Wichita

Falls, committee to notify the presidential candidate of nomination; Mrs. Hilda B. Weinert of Seguin, committee to notify vice presidential nominee; J. C. Looney of Edinburg, honorary convention vice president; J. C. Martin of Laredo, honorary assistant vice president; Ralph McCullough of Houston, honorary secretary; Hunter McLean of Fort Worth, honorary assistant secretary; and John Mobley of Austin, delegation sergeant-at-arms.

CONNALLY TRIMS BUDGET

Governor Connally trimmed the 1969 state budget enacted by the special legislative session $1.3 million and sternly lectured lawmakers for setting up $1.4 million in Agriculture Department appropriations as a lump sum item which he could not veto selectively.

Governor also vetoed seven controversial riders including those which sought to cut off funds for voicing air pollution control by cotton gins and prevent use of state planes and helicopters to catch traffic law violators. Connally took veto axe to these spending items:

$600,000 for temporary building to house the comptroller's department; $275,000 for two new elevators in the capitol; $187,500 for the Port Lavaca causeway state park; $90,000 for Somervell County state park land; $91,000 for legal clerks in 13 courts of civil appeals; $50,000 for insurance claim investigation; $200,000 for Blinn College to operate Old Washington State Park museum; $17,500 for a deputy administrator for the Liquor Control Board; $16,500 for assistant executive director of state board of control; and $13,000 for assistant director of auditing for LCB.

COURT SPEAKS

State Supreme Court refused to hear John Robert McClelland's suit to force Harris County GOP Chairman Mrs. W. M. Palm and State GOP Chairman Peter O'Donnell to certify him as the Republican candidate for the House of Representatives in the November election.

McClelland got 6,659 votes to his closest opponent's 2,992 in the GOP primary race. But the county chairman refused to certify McClelland, claiming he would not have lived in the district for a full year prior to the November 5 election.

A Dallas golfer who injured his back when he was thrown from a golf cart at Dallas' Riverlake Country Club has won a new trial in his damage suit for $134,000 against the club. High Court approved the move for George A. McRay after a Dallas court had ruled in favor of the club. McRay claims the club was negligent in allowing high grass to obscure a stump off the fairway on the 18th hole. Cart McRay was riding hit this stump and McRay was thrown out.

Court refused to order Land Commissioner Jerry Sadler to erase his forfeiture on a 5,524-acre West Texas sulphur lease claimed by Cobra Oil & Gas Corp. of Wichita Falls. When the Court heard the case on April 17, the state claimed that Cobra not only waited months too long to pay the first rental, but waited 300 days after filing the lease with Culson, Pecos and Reeves Counties file with the Land Office and days is the limit.

ACTION SPARKED

Faced with the January 1 deadline for a regulation prohibiting intra-state shipments of cattle from counties having no certification for brucellosis control, seven counties are hurrying into action to secure certification.

Animal Health Department reports three counties - Hemphill, Orange and Starr - qualified for certification during June. Cameron and Hidalgo Counties qualified for recertification.

Sixty-eight counties are in the process of testing initial certification.

SCREWORM DANGER

State and federal animal health experts are becoming worried at the increase in screwworm infestation cases being filed this year. To date 1,125 cases have been reported in 1968.

After the sterile fly program was inaugurated in 1962, the screwworm count fell below 300 cases by 1964.

The rapid increase in cases this year is blamed on extremely wet weather in South and West Texas which has made a climate especially suited for the worms and their parent screwworm flies.

Ranchers are warned to perform surgical operations (dehorning and castration) only if maximum safety precautions are taken to prevent fly infestation.

GRAIN HARVESTING HINTS

Weeds in grain sorghum may cause trouble at harvest time, says Henry O'Neal, Extension agricultural engineer. He says it may be necessary to operate the combine at a slower speed in order to handle the tough, high-moisture weeds. Closer attention to the care and maintenance of the combine is also suggested.

POWDERY MILDEW ON PECANS

Due to the continuing rains and humid weather, powdery mildew is causing concern among Texas pecan growers. Local county agent can supply information on its control.

DIPLOMATIC POUCH

WASHINGTON D.C. The following letters were recently answered by The Department of State.

PRESIDENTIAL SUCCESSION
Presently at school we are studying the American Constitution and its Amendments. Being Grade 13 students we were told to research parts of the Constitution that interested us the most. The part I took, and I would like help in the Presidential Succession. Researching the topic I found out that if the President dies or what have you the Vice President takes over, then the Speaker of the House and then the President pro tempore of the Senate. Here's where I ran around. First, what is the pro tempore of the Senate, what are his duties, how is he picked, who is the present pro tempore of the Senate, and what articles of the Constitution or what Amendments prescribe that he is the fourth in succession. Finally, I read somewhere that it is not perfectly legal for the Vice President or any other person to take over in case of death. What is the story on this.

Welland, Ont., Canada
Dear Mr. B.:
Since the responsibilities of the Department of State lie primarily in the field of American foreign policy, we have very little in the way of substantive material to send you on the subject of your inquiry.

The President Pro Tempore is a member of the United States Senate elected by that body to preside over it in the absence of the President of the Senate (the Vice President of the United States). Senator Carl Hayden of Arizona serves currently as President Pro Tempore of the Senate.

The enclosed copy of the text of the Twenty-fifth Amendment and accompanying background information should be of help to you on the questions concerning the Presidential Succession. I am also enclosing a copy of GPO Price List 50, which indicates on page 6 publications on the United States Constitution and Government that may be of further assistance to you and your classmates.

CHINA CORRESPONDENCE
I have written the Red Chinese Embassy in Paris twice. In reply to my first letter, they sent me a brochure concerning Chinese periodicals in English. Of course I won't subscribe to any of these magazines, but I am now thinking about subscribing to a U.S.I.A. newspaper published in Hong Kong the China News Analysis.

In my second letter, I did my best to subtly shame them for their indifference to my first letter using their own tactics, you know, the

PRECISION AUTO SERVICE
Hwy 36 West Cameron, Tex.

Year in and year out you can catch snapper if you are willing to take the punishment dealt by the weather.

Actually, it isn't the heat or the cold that will stop you from catching snapper. It's the wind and the waves. Sometimes the waves get mighty "high and wide" between the shore and the snapper reefs. But if you can whip them, you've got it made, summer or winter.

Most snapper fishing on the Texas Gulf Coast has been done out of Galveston and Freeport. They are not too far apart, and usually the fishermen go into virtually the same area. There is a heavier concentration of party boats around Freeport so it is safe to say that most of the snapper fishing for sport is out of there.

You can reach snapper banks from many other places along the coast, such as Port Arthur, Port Isabel, and the Corpus Christi area.

There's another access point, too. It's out of Port Mansfield. These new banks are located closer to the mainland but as yet the general public hasn't become aware of their existence.

Since the banks out of Port Mansfield are close enough they can be fished with outboards. Difficulty is that few of these smaller boats are equipped to locate the banks.

Actually, successful snapper fishing depends almost entirely on locating the reefs. Most of them are down from 10 to 40 fathoms and some even deeper. It takes a good boatman with proper electronic equipment to locate them. Sometimes due to the wind and wave action, it is even difficult for the experienced boatman to find them.

But once you're over the banks, it becomes a fairly simple matter to get all the snapper you want. And for a bonus you might catch a dozen different species of deep water fish, including ling, grouper, jewfish, kings and quite often sharks.

Snapper fishing off the party boats usually is the most productive. Sometimes a boat will return to its dock by 6 o'clock with its ice boxes loaded down with a ton of snapper. And every fisherman completely worn out!

Hauling up one of these fish from the bottom with a heavy rod and reel is a pretty good chore. Some weigh as much as 30 pounds. After you catch a few big ones you are ready for a rest and something to eat.

It takes very little preparation to go on a party boat fishing trip. Party boat operators know your needs and are ready to serve you.

Most of the regular snapper fishermen have their own equipment. It consists of a heavy rod not more than 5 feet long and not less than a 4-0 reel and a line that will test well over 100 pounds.

You'll need a bottom rig. It consists of a steel or heavy monofilament leader, with two hooks at the end of stageons extending from heavy swivels. Some 16-oz. lead weights are tied to the end of the leader. Their purpose is to carry your bait quickly to the bottom. Usually the water depth will be at least 150 feet. Extra large, heavy duty hooks are a necessity.

A few personal items should be part of your equipment. These include heavy canvas gloves to use while handling the fish, a pair of fish grippers or heavy pliers, and a large ice box or garbage pail in which to carry your fish.

Another must is an old hand towel. Tuck it under your belt and use it to wipe your hands after handling the slimy fish or after baiting your hook with frozen squid or sand trout. Bait is furnished by the operator when you sign on to one of the party boats.

If you do not have this equipment and don't want to acquire it for such an occasional trip, it can be rented from the boat operator for a nominal price.

Operator furnishes ice. Also the drinking water. Take along plenty of food and beverage because you will build up quite an appetite.
